PACIFIC PLANES MADE READY FOR CONTEST

Two Crews in California and
One in Hawaii Preparing For Earliest Possible Start
Fame of First Crossing of
That Part of Pacific Is Prize
Pilots Seek

San Francisco, June 27.—Tested,
grounded and ready for flight, two
aeroplanes in the three-cornered
race to bridge the Pacific by air between here and Hawaii to-day
waited the zero hour, while the third remained to be tried out before the take-off.

The big three-engined Fokker in which Lester J. Matland and Albert Hegenberger will make the attempt in being held up until the arrival of Major-General Patrick, chief of the service, who The San Francisco
Examiner declares will be a passenger.
General Patrick was due here some time to-day.

In Honolulu the navy threw a cloak of secrecy about the preparations of Richard Grace, former naval reserve officer, whose flight
plane was locked in a guarded
hangar at Pearl Harbor after making a successful test flight yesterday. The time of the contemplated
huff was not made known.

Ernest Smith, local civilian flier, got his plane ready for test flights last night after working feverishly with a large force of men. In spite of the fact that Matland and Hegenberger announced they did not contemplate a
take-off before to-morrow, the impression that they would make an earlier
start than that caused men to work
at frantic speed. Although the chance of Grace and his navigator, Lieut.
Eston B. Koger, for a take-off from the Hawaiian end to-day were unknown
here, Smith was conceded to have the best chance to be the first to get into the air, because whether or not General
Patrick accompanied the army fliers,
they must await his arrival and approval of the plane before they can get away.

RUNWAY BUILT
The Oakland municipal airport,
where a special 7,000-foot runway has been constructed, was ready to-day to accommodate both the army plane and Smith for their take-offs. Matland and Hegenberger inspected the runway yesterday and pronounced it in splendid condition.

The weather bureau promised head
winds for take-off weather here and in the island to-day, declaring there would be a fresh east breeze from Hawaii to the mainland, and a stiff northwest breeze from there to
the mainland, with fairly clear weather
at this end.

Weather Delays Byrd's Aeroplane

New York, June 27.—Commander
Richard E. Byrd and his crew of three are awaiting dawn to-morrow as the earliest hour weather conditions will permit their take-off in the giant Fokker monoplane America on its flight
from New York to Paris.

While they wait, another Fokker
plane, tri-motored like the America, is being conditioned at Hasbrouck Heights,
N.J., for an air trip to Rome and back
under the guidance of Lloyd W. Ber-taud, air mail pilot, of the New York Herald-Tribune to-day.

Bertaud, who was scheduled to accompany Clarence D. Chamberlin on the transatlantic flight of the Bel-
lanca monoplane Columbia until a tug
with Charles Levine, backer of the project, interfered, is reported by newspapers as likely to return here at $100,000 under contract signed last Thursday with Bradford Merrill as agent for William Randolph Hearst.

STORMS REPORTED
Storms off Newfoundland and head
winds between Long Island and the point where the plane will head out
across make indefinite the hour
for Byrd's take-off.

BIG CALIFORNIA OILFIELD FIRE

Equipment of Eight Wells in Long Beach District Destroyed by Flames

Long Beach, Cal., June 27.—Firemen
of Long Beach and oil company employees, reinforced by a part of the Los Angeles fire department, to-day
stood in battle array in the Alamosa
heights offshoot to prevent new outbreaks of a fire which last night
burned eight wells and badly damaged
the rigs and equipment of several other wells.

The oil tanks in the area which were burned early this morning may boil
over and cause to be renewed the battle against the fire, which was brought under control last night.

The loss is said to exceed $100,000.

IS CANDIDATE FOR MEXICO PRESIDENCY; GEN. A. OBREGON

Mexico City, June 27.—General
Alvaro Obregon has formally announced his candidacy for the presidency of Mexico.

General Arnulfo Gomez had already been named as the candidate
of the Anti-electionist Party.
Gen. Obregon served as President
prior to the election of Plutarco Calles, present chief executive.

FLOODS MENACE TOWNS IN OREGON

Dam Near Weston Gives Way;
Water Sweeps Arlington
After Cloudburst

Pendleton, Ore., June 27.—The town
of Weston, near here, swept yesterday
by a flood from a cloudburst, was
menaced to-day by another torrent,
according to meagre telephone reports
indicating the dam impounding the city's water supply had washed out.
The telephone operator said the
water was expected to spread out over sufficient ground before reaching the city to prevent a great deal of additional damage. Pressure of flood water was reported to have been the cause of the breaking of the dam.
Portland, Ore., June 27.—Two clou-
dbursts striking twelve miles apart caused considerable damage to two eastern Oregon towns. One struck at Arlington, on the Columbia River 127
miles from Portland, and the other hit
at Weston, 120 miles farther eastward.
Damage was heavy in both towns, but
no lives were lost.

The damage at Arlington was estimated at $100,000.

PROPERTY LOSSES
Milton, Ore., June 27.—Thousands of dollars in damage was done to property
and growing crops in this vicinity last
evening when a series of cloudbursts
struck the Blue Mountains south of Milton-Freewater and the Dry Creek
country west of Milton.

Arlington, Ore., June 27.—A terrific
cloudburst that struck on Sutter Flat,
seven miles south of here, yesterday afternoon sent a wall of water seven feet
high sweeping over Arlington and
washed away houses and other frame
structures and did damage estimated at $100,000.

The centre of the property loss here
was the Vendome Hotel, which became an almost total wreck. The rear end of the historic old Vendome is now in the Columbia River, floating seaward, while
the main portion of the structure rests
crumpled on its foundations.

There was no loss of life as far as can be ascertained and no one was reported injured. This fact is largely attributed to the warning given by William Head and Frim Williams, who had started to drive to Condon. The men ran into the cloudburst on the John Day highway and turned around and drove for Arlington. Motorists
were warned on the way and the alarm was given in town. Residents of this city, at the outlet of several large canyons, had always feared the flood menace, and they took to the high hills
without delay.

QUICK WORK STOPPED PANIC IN A THEATRE

Montreal, June 27.—Quick work on the part of Mrs. B. M. Garfield, wife of the manager of the Rialto Theatre, in the north end of Montreal, averted a panic in that amusement place last night when smoke from a fire in an adjoining building entered the auditorium.

A spectator shouted "fire" and immediately there was a scene of turmoil. Mrs. Garfield leaped to the railing at the rear of the ground floor
and shouted reassurance that there was no fire in the place and no danger.

The staff of ushers followed suit and
the excitement subsided. Later the theatre was emptied without injury to anyone.

2,000,000 SHINGLES
AND KILN BURNED

Marpole, June 27.—Two million
shingles and the dry kiln of the Hunting-Merritt Lumber Company Limited
last night were destroyed in a specu-
lar fire at midnight Sunday.

SAUNDERS TO FORM CABINET IN P.E.I. SOON

Election Puts Twenty-four Liberals and Six Conservatives in New Legislature

New Administration Pledge to Carry Out Policy of Prohibition

Charlottetown, P.E.I., June 27.—The people of Prince Edward Island were returning to a normal routine to-day
following a provincial campaign of unprecedented vigor and a general election, which resulted in the complete
overthrow of the Conservative Government headed by Hon. J. D. Stewart, who had appealed to the voters on a policy
of government control and the sale of liquor.

In all, twenty-four Liberals, pledged
to the retention of the prohibition law,
were returned to the Legislature on Saturday, against six Conservatives.

A. C. Saunders, K.C., Liberal leader,
who will be called upon to form a new government, had no announcement to make to-day, and Premier Stewart had not as yet indicated when he proposed to resign. If he follows the precedent
after the two previous general elections, he will not hand over the reins
of office until late in August.

CABINET POSIBILITIES
It is reported the post of Attorney-
General may be given to George B.
Imman, K.C., a departure from the practice of combining the offices of Premier and Attorney-General.

Walter M. Lea is regarded as the most likely candidate for the office of Minister of Agriculture, he having served
in this capacity in a previous administration.

Preparations For the Sankey Trial

Prince Rupert, June 27.—J. E. Bird,
counsel for Joe Sankey, Indian, accused with having murdered a young woman at Port Essington, is here en route to Vancouver from Ottawa, where
the Supreme Court of Canada granted Sankey a new trial. Mr. Bird is consulting with W. E. Collison, Indian agent, relative to the case. Mr. Bird
says he will endeavor to have the trial
either in New Westminster or Vancouver.

STORES MAY STAY OPEN ON SATURDAY

Business Establishments Not Compelled to Close For Second Holiday

While the Dominion Government has proclaimed Saturday, July 2, a public holiday in addition to July 1, ordinary shops and places of business are not compelled to close in British Columbia
on Saturday next, as this proclamation
is not effective under the B.C.
"Weekly Half-Holiday Act." This is
the effect of a statement issued by Hon.
J. D. MacLean, Acting Premier, in reply to telegrams and queries on this matter.

Mr. MacLean said: "The Dominion Government has proclaimed Saturday, July 2, a public holiday this year, in addition to Dominion Day. The effect of this proclamation is to provide for the legal closing of institutions, such as banks, which operate under Dominion statutes. It does not compel the closing of ordinary shops on that day, as the provincial statute which requires the closing of shops on Dominion
Day and certain other holidays does not apply to special holidays proclaimed by the Dominion Government.

NIGHT CAUSE INCONVENIENCE
"If a proclamation were issued by the Provincial Government declaring July 2
a special holiday under our statutes, shops would be compelled to remain closed on that day as well as
on Dominion Day and the Sunday following. It is thought that in many parts of the Province people living near towns and coming in for the second day's celebration may naturally desire
to combine business with their holiday.
It would also, no doubt, occasion
considerable hardship to both dealers
and householders in providing for ordinary needs if shops were closed for three days in succession. The course
we are following, in the interests of the public, by proclaiming no holiday will leave the closing of places of business
optional on Saturday, July 2.

CITY SERVICE
The same is true regarding the City Service. Skeleton staffs will be kept in all the Government offices on Saturday, July 2, so that the general
public coming to the city for a holiday may, if they so desire, combine
business with pleasure.

BECOMES ILL ON AUTOMOBILE TOUR

DR. E. J. ROTHWELL, M.P.P.
New Westminster

Quesset, June 27.—Dr. E. J.
Rothwell, M.P.P. for New Westminster, is in the hospital here,
seriously ill. He was stricken suddenly while he and his fifteen-
year-old son were camped at the automobile park here on route
north on a holiday. Examination
showed a serious internal condition. Word has been sent to Mrs.
Rothwell to come here.

The forty-ninth annual prize meet
of the British Columbia Rifle Association opened this morning at Heals Range with one of the largest entries
in the history of rifle shooting in the Province.

Expert marksmen from all parts of British Columbia and Vancouver Island
gathered here over the week-end to participate in the meet. Master Gunner Collings, secretary of the B.C.R.A., is in charge of the meet.

One hundred and twenty-five mark-
smen have entered.

The last matches of the meet will be shot on Thursday at 12 noon.
The first round of the Macdonald
"Brier" No. 1 was shot this morning.
The only list of prize winners available on going to press was the Tyro
Match, which was shot concurrently
with the Macdonald "Brier" No. 1. This match was won by Cadet Lieut. P.
Wilkinson of the 112th Battalion. Last year's winner, Cadet L. Bond also of the 112th, came second on this morning's prize list. Great credit is being given the Tyro Battalion for the remarkable showing made this morning, eighteen
members of this battalion being among the winners.

RELEASED PRISONERS PROBLEM IN FRANCE

Leon Daudet and Two Others,
Out on Hoax, Bring Ridicule
to Government

Paris, June 27.—Leon Daudet, the
royalist leader, and M. de Lest, another
royalist, and the Communist Semard,
for whom benefit the gates of the Sainte Prison were opened on Saturday,
were still at liberty to-day, and the Government was working to obtain a clue as to how the warden was tricked
into releasing the three prisoners. A number of witnesses have been questioned, but no light had been shed on
the mysterious hoax, which has caused much laughter at the expense of the Government.

Some of the newspapers declare the
affair is doomed to remain a mystery
unless M. Daudet's royalist followers decide to tell the story.

BY TELEPHONE
The police version is that someone—
a royalist, the charge—representing himself as M. Semard, Minister of the Interior, telephoned to Director Catry
of the prison that the three prisoners
were to be released.

Also before the council for preliminary passage, and the fixing of the date
of the referendum will be the cold storage by-law, one necessitating a vote of the electors to ratify proposed undertakings between the city
and terminal warehouse operators.

Fresh developments in the grain elevator proposals, as announced in Saturday's Times, following the receipt of a wire from C. P. W. Schweiggers, may lead to a realignment of proposals
with reference to the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited.

Five written applications for the position of industrial commissioner are on file at the City Hall and will be passed to the council to-night for consideration. Action in regard to an appointment to the post is not expected to be made at the session, and the applications will probably be referred to committee. All applications are from local residents, it is understood, though
the names are withheld until the letters have been opened by the council.

WOMAN WOUNDED In Vancouver is In Critical State

Vancouver, June 27.—The condition
of Miss Annie Donald, Cambie Street, Vancouver, who was found several days
ago with terrible injuries to her head,
alleged by police to have been inflicted with a hammer, is reported to be worse. According to General Hospital authorities, complications have developed and the woman's condition
is critical.

Donald, who was found with her
throat slashed, is reported to be improving. Her wound was said to be
poised to have been self-inflicted.

HIGH SCHOOL AT CLOVERDALE, B.C., IS SCENE OF A FIRE

Cloverdale, B.C., June 27.—Believed to be of incendiary origin, a fire in the high school here on Sunday destroyed many books and ruined much of the woodwork. An attempt to set fire to the school
had been made on a previous Sunday.

Donald, who was found with her
throat slashed, is reported to be improving. Her wound was said to be
poised to have been self-inflicted.

FIGURES OF EMPLOYMENT SHOW CANADA'S PROGRESS

Ottawa, June 27.—Canadian employment conditions at the beginning of June showed a more favorable ap-
pect than in any other month since 1920. Approximately 45,896 more workers were employed on June 1 than on May 1 last.

Statements were tabulated from 6,150 firms employing 876,798 workers
at the beginning of the month, as compared with 832,872 on May 1. This increase of 43,926 persons, or 5.3 per cent, brought the index number to 105.2, as against 103.2 on October 1, 1926, the previous high level in the last seven years. In the month of May last the index stood at 100.6.

Unusually large advances for this time of year were recorded in manufacturing, while construction, transportation, mining, logging and services also showed important increases.

In British Columbia, an aggregate
payroll of 79,297 workers was registered
by the 673 reporting employers, who had 74,860 at the beginning of May.
This increase of over 4,700 employees
was the largest noted on June 1 of any year since the record was instituted in 1920.

CITY COUNCIL WILL HOLD BUSY SESSION

Industrial Projects in Various Stages of Discussion Up For Settlement

With two by-laws, one agreement in the fire by-law stage, and applications
for the post of industrial commissioner
before it, the City Council anticipates
an extended session to-night.

Following consideration by the industrial committee over the week-end,
the motion picture proposals will be laid before the council to-night for further consideration. Definite council action to accept or reject the proposals
is expected. A by-law would follow acceptance.

Also before the council for prelimi-

DUKE OF YORK IS WELCOMED IN LONDON

He and Duchess Cheered by Throngs on Return From Their Australasian Tour

London, June 27.—The Duke
and Duchess of York, returning to-day
from their visit to Australia and New Zealand, were given an enthusiastic
welcome when they reached London.
The King and Queen greeted them
most affectionately at the railway station, whence they drove in an open carriage to Buckingham Palace amid
the cheers of vast crowds lining the route. Despite a drizzle which ceased
at the time the returning royal couple appeared.

After entering the palace the Duke
and Duchess lost no time in having their baby, Princess Elizabeth, who had been left at home, brought to them.
Shortly afterward the Duke and Duchess appeared on the balcony of the Palace with the King and Queen.
The cheers of the crowd increased
when it was seen the Duchess had the infant Princess Elizabeth in her arms.

AT PORTSMOUTH
Portsmouth, Eng., June 27.—The Duke and Duchess of York received a warm welcome home upon their arrival here to-day after their visit to Australia and New Zealand.

Portsmouth Harbor was ablaze with flags as the battleship Renown, on which the voyage was made, weighed anchor at Spithead and proceeded into
the harbor, where the Duke's brothers,
the Princes of Wales and Prince Henry,
awaited. Aeroplanes circled above the ship.

The accident occurred when one train
left the rails and swung over to another track.

Wimbledon, June 27.—Much excitement was caused among tennis fans on their way to Wimbledon this afternoon
when two district railway trains collided head-on near the Wimbledon
station. Six persons were injured, one seriously, and many suffered shock.

SHAWNIGAN SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES

Story of Canada, Province by Province Told by Students

Shawnigan Lake, June 27.—The closing exercises of the Shawnigan public school took place on Friday morning, and was attended by over fifty parents and friends. Principal, A. H. Flawa, and Miss B. M. Wootton, teacher of division 2 prepared a most enjoyable programme of songs and recitations, the spirit of which was entered into wholeheartedly by the children. S. J. Head, secretary of the school board, occupied the chair, and spoke briefly on the achievements of the scholars in their year's work, and the approaching celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation. The following programme was rendered by the children: Song—"O Canada"..... School Demonstration of mental arithmetic by division 2 and grade 4, 5 and 6 of division 1.

Recitations from famous speeches concerning Confederation: Thomas D'Arcy M. Gee, Arthur Raymur, Duke of Devonshire..... Douglas Price, Sir Lomer Gouin..... Harvey Neff, Dialogue..... School Demonstration of mental arithmetic by division 1.

This was very interesting. Each province was represented by a child who carried a shield bearing the coat of arms of the province represented. They formed a semi-circle and recounted to Miss Canada the story of their wealth and progress, who in turn exhorted each province to work for Canada as a whole, and so become a great nation. Drill exhibition of physical training: Songs and choruses.

(a) home-going song..... School (b) "Sleep Baby, Sleep"..... Irene Cornwell, Ruth Fidler, Bobbie Davidson and Stanley Pelland. (c) "The Cuckoo"..... Division 2 (d) "Bedtime in Summer"..... Division 2 (e) "Anvil chorus"..... School Presentation of rolls of honor, prizes and writing certificates.

Rolls of honor, division 1—Proficiency, Marjorie Jeatt; regularity, John and Charlie Cornwell; deportment, Sadie Lamb.

Rolls of honor, division 2—Proficiency, Irene Cornwell; regularity, Bobbie Davidson; deportment, Ruth Fidler.

Best all-round pupil—Cortney, sport and scholarship, Gerald Mudge. Twenty-six pupils received writing certificates presented by the MacLean writing method. Justina Pelland won the Cowichan Health Centre prize for best health poster.

The prizes for serving presented by the Women's Institute were awarded to Doris Boniface in the senior class, and Sadie Lamb for junior work. Mrs. MacLean-Hurley presented the prizes and congratulated each child for its attainment. A pleasing feature of the affair was the fine exhibition of work that was shown in each room. A model of Port Victoria as it appeared in 1843 made by grade 5 came in for much favorable comment.

Also a section of the old Cariboo Road done in placetime was worthy of comment. The children in division 2 showed some remarkable work. A miniature of Shawnigan Lake was exceptionally good. Rousing cheers for teachers, trustees and visitors brought to a close a very enjoyable breaking up. The following is a list of promotions:

Division 1 Promoted to Grade 5—Thelma Davidson.

son, Sadie Lamb, Lillian Pelland, Enid Price, Eric Price, Leonard Sam and Cicely Twist.

Promoted to Grade 6—Charlie Cornwell, James Cornwell, Charlie Hepworth and Thelma Luckovich.

Promoted to Grade 7—Doris Boniface, Marjorie Jeatt, Justina Pelland, Douglas Price and Edith Sam.

Promoted to Grade 8—Harvey Neff and Arthur Raymur.

Sat for entrance examinations this year—Irene Luckovich, Gerald Mudge, Harold Pitton and Franklin Sam.

Division II Promoted to Grade 2—Dorothy Perry, Kathleen Stridge, Sammy Dyson, Bobbie Davidson, Charley Page and Donald Price.

Promoted to Grade 3—Joan Alexander, Peggy Alexander, John Oldham, Jimmy Jeatt and Alfred Elmer.

LADIES' AID A meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. John Medland last week, a good deal of useful work was done. The various committees reporting their activities, afternoon tea was served by the hostess. A social evening was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ford on June 15 under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church. All members of the aid were present as well as several friends. The occasion was a farewell party for the Rev. T. M. Barlow and Mrs. Barlow, who were presented with a silver sandwich dish from members of the church. Mrs. John Medland, chairman of the aid, made the presentation, and in a few well-chosen words expressed regret at their departure from the district. Following the presentation a very enjoyable evening was spent with music, recitations and games contributed by Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Medland and Mrs. Horton. A delicious supper was served by the hostess and friends.

British Purchases From Canada Off

Ottawa, June 27. (Canadian Press) The decline of more than $61,000,000 in the Dominion's export trade with the United Kingdom during fiscal year ended March 31, is mainly attributed to three causes, writes Trade Commissioner G. B. Johnson, Glasgow, in the forthcoming issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

"Great Britain's import trade from all countries declined seriously owing to the slowing up of industry and to labor troubles. The year 1925-26 was the greatest year in Canada's history of export trade to Great Britain with the exception of the inflated war and post war years. Had 1925-26 shown normal instead of extraordinary expansion, the succeeding year would have shown no decline. By far the greatest falling off in Canada's exports to Great Britain occurred in the grain trade, largely due to the fact that ships ordinarily in that trade were diverted from Montreal to United States Atlantic ports to carry coal to England and the continent.

Matriculation Students of Victoria High School Hold Graduating Banquet

Over a hundred matriculation students who have just finished writing their final examinations sat down to a banquet at the Victoria High School on Saturday night together with members of the faculty and guests of honor.

Leonard Nicholls acted as toastmaster. "The King" was proposed and received with enthusiasm. "The Staff," proposed by F. Norris and replied to by Miss L. Maxwell, carried a weight of applause. FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE QUASHED BY COURT

New Evidence Admitted Wins Freedom For Trail Smelter Worker

New evidence admitted by the B.C. Court of Appeal resulted in the five-year sentence given Peter Schuman Trail smelter worker, being quashed by a ruling handed down this morning.

The sentence was pronounced by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald at the Nelson assizes. Presentation of further evidence concerning the alleged offence in regard to a young girl was permitted earlier in the present sitting.

C. H. O'Malloran appeared for the appellant and W. D. Carter, Deputy Attorney-General, for the Crown.

Mr. Carter, when the matter was first before the Appeal Court said the Crown felt that the conviction on the grave offence against the girl could not be sustained, but thought a conviction for indecent assault might be sustained. There was not that corroboration of evidence on the grave offence which was necessary for conviction. In view of the new evidence presented, however, Mr. Carter now withdrew his motion for a conviction on the lesser offence.

The court's ruling releases the accused.

Judgment was reserved in the case of Antonio Morello, Vancouver taxi cab driver, sentenced to four years' imprisonment on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of John F. Lawson, killed in an automobile accident last January.

MYSTERY BULLET WOUNDS LITTLE CHILD AT PLAY

Provincial Police are investigating the accidental wounding of a little boy, Percy Beck, thirteen, of 2815 Inlet Avenue, struck in the leg by a piece of a bullet when playing near his home about 8 o'clock last night. The lad was standing on a rock at the time the chunk of flying steel caught him in the leg, necessitating his quick removal to receive medical attention. The wound was painful but not serious.

The boy was playing with another lad of the same age, Dan Barreau. Quick to realize the other's danger, the second boy tried to stanch the flow of blood and then aided his companion to reach home.

Police were immediately notified and Provincial constables searched the neighborhood for traces of someone with a high-powered rifle. Nothing could be found.

Mr. Carter, when the matter was first before the Appeal Court said the Crown felt that the conviction on the grave offence against the girl could not be sustained, but thought a conviction for indecent assault might be sustained. There was not that corroboration of evidence on the grave offence which was necessary for conviction. In view of the new evidence presented, however, Mr. Carter now withdrew his motion for a conviction on the lesser offence.

The court's ruling releases the accused.

Judgment was reserved in the case of Antonio Morello, Vancouver taxi cab driver, sentenced to four years' imprisonment on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of John F. Lawson, killed in an automobile accident last January.

KUMTUKS AND GYROS

Reg. Hayward Tells of Need of Co-operation From City For Success of Celebration

Arnold W. Trevitt, vice-president of the Gyro Club, welcomed members of the Kumtuka Club at the joint luncheon meeting of the two organizations in the Chamber of Commerce to-day. He extended the sincere greetings of Gyros, he said, and hoped that the gatherings of the kind would be more frequent. He praised the work of co-operation among clubs of the past, hoping that it might be continued in the future.

Miss Mabel Cameron, president of the Kumtuka Club, thanked the Gyros for the hearty welcome extended her and her fellow clubwomen. She, too, believed in co-operation. Miss Cameron said. She hoped there would always be the same friendly feelings among service organizations here for the good they could accomplish was immense.

Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., spoke of the preparations being made for the Confederation Jubilee Celebration and read some extracts from addresses given by Fathers of Confederation sixty years ago.

The whole plan for the great celebration originated in Ottawa, said Mr. Hayward, and Victoria was to the forefront in preparation for the event. He declared that the policy of the committee in charge of the celebration, at the head of which he had been placed, was one of strict economy. Because of a lack of capital there might be some parts of the programme absolutely lost, he said. Much as the committee wished to see a giant celebration, and honestly as they believed they would, the whole thing had to be handled with much care and economy that the work was difficult, he said.

He urged the co-operation of all in the celebration.

The annual Gyro Club picnic will be held this year on July 23, at Elk Lake, according to an announcement made by William Hudson.

Discussions plans for the July 1 celebration float, the club members decided to have their entry prepared immediately.

As a part of the day's entertainment, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, gold medalist, sang, accompanied by Miss Francis Jeffrey. She was received with enthusiasm and vociferously cheered.

Announcement was made by Miss Cameron, that the members of the Kumtuka Club were already preparing their float for the July 1 procession. A committee of ladies was working on details of this matter to-night, she said.

Harold Butcher announced that the Children's Aid camp at Weir's Beach, Metehoon, would be prepared by the Gyros as usual this year. He called for volunteers to assist in this work.

NEW HEALTH PLAN TO BE EXAMINED

Saanich Trustees and Councilors to Discuss Unified Health Service

Rockefeller Institute May Subsidize Saanich Health Centre

To consider a drastic programme of reorganization in Saanich public health administration, a joint meeting of the Saanich School Board and the Public Health Committee of the Saanich Council will be held this evening at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak.

The programme to be discussed includes unification of the offices of municipal and schools health officer, with a new appointment. Recognition of the War Memorial Health Centre administration under a fully qualified medical practitioner, and possibility of co-operation with the Rockefeller Foundation in expansion of the services to be carried on from the Health Centre.

WORK EARNS FAME

The Saanich War Memorial Health Centre was the first institution of the kind in Canada, and carries on one of the most ambitious programmes of preventive health service in effect in North America. This work has attracted the attention of the Rockefeller Institute, and tentative offers of very substantial assistance in developing preventive health work have been made by the Rockefeller Foundation.

An essential requirement of the Rockefeller Foundation is appointment as head of the Health Centre of a fully qualified medical officer, trained by the institute in modern preventive sanitation and public health work.

It is the hope of Saanich municipal and school board authorities that commission of the office of municipal health officer, school health officer and superintendent of the Health Centre will provide a means of securing harmony in health affairs in Saanich and lower expense to the ratepayers.

CANADIAN SCOTTISH WILL ENTER PARADE

Brass and Pipe Bands to Give Special Programme in That Connection

The 16th Canadian Scottish Battalion will march in the Jubilee parade accompanied by their band, it was stated to-day.

Through the efforts of Bandmaster Miller and Pipe Major Wishart two of the largest military bands ever assembled in this city will march in the parade. The brass band of the regiment is sixty pieces. Many hours have been put in practicing the various military marches. The bandmaster, which the battalion will march.

A feature of the parade will be the playing of "Dunbarton Drums," the regimental march of the Royal Scots, with which the battalion, the 16th Canadian Scottish, are affiliated. H. R.H. Princess Mary, the honorary colonel of the Royal Scots, gave her gracious consent to the playing of this famous military march. It will be the first time that "Dunbarton Drums" has ever been played in Victoria.

Accompanying the brass band will be the 16th pipe band under the command of Pipe Major Wishart. The pipe band has always created a great deal of interest in this city, and it is interesting to note that the largest number of pipers and drummers ever assembled by the 16th Canadian Scottish will participate in the parade.

The junior pipe band of Victoria will also march in the parade with the regiment, and will proceed to camp

"Convoy" is Special Navy Film Showing All This Week

Capitol's Feature Attraction Shows Battleships Racing to Action and Tells Pathetic Story, Spiced With Thrills; Vaudeville Numbers Make Entertainment of Merit

Battleships foaming into action in the greatest sea battle of history; 2,000,000 soldiers being carried overseas to France and at home a girl dying a thousand living deaths till the convoys might sail in safety.

Those are the highlights of "Convoy," Robert Kane's great epic of the United States Navy, which plays at the Capitol this week with an all-star cast headed by Dorothy Mackall, Lowell Sherman, Buster Collier, Lawrence Gray, and Ian Keith.

Produced with the co-operation of the navy, the first National special was hailed as a film history of the navy at war, when Joe Boyle, the director, took the picture to Washington for a government review.

The mobilization of the United States at the outbreak of the war, the methods by which German Secret Service agents were apprehended and the organization of the historical convoy system form a background for one of the most dramatic tales ever put on the screen.

The picture was four months in production, cost over $1,000,000 and engaged the efforts of more than 3,000 actors and extras. Actual pictures of the Battle of the North Sea, with ships sinking, thousands of guns firing and the sea becoming a literal volcano, taken during the war by British, American and German official photographers are featured.

The added attractions on the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week include Baby Helen Pederson, "The Child Wonder," in a novel presentation; the Argentine Duo, a very clever team of South American dance artists, offering a specialty; Claude and Alec in a musical presentation; de Luxe, offering a specialty; and a very haunting melody, on the mandolin and guitar. The Capitol concert orchestra will present another musical musical symphonization for the picture attractions.

Big Magician Act On Headlines For Coliseum Theatre

Professor Alfred Darby With Dumbbells; Good Vaudeville

This week the Coliseum, in order to keep up its reputation for new and novel entertainment, is offering five acts of the best vaudeville entertainment to be procured on the West Coast. Heading this bill is Professor Alfred Darby, in his newest act of magic and ventriloquism. Mr. Darby commenced his career in England, and on migrating to America, appeared on the leading vaudeville circuits. He went overseas with the 44th Battalion of Winnipeg, but shortly after he got to France, he was ordered to join the 4th Division concert party. Later Mr. Darby was transferred to the Canadian Corps concert party and was featured with Red Newman of Captain Flunkett's Dumbbells.

Another big act is that of the Abrams Sisters, Claudia and Marie, who present a singing, dancing and acrobatic act. These two fascinating and pretty little damsels have won the well merited applause of all audiences they have appeared before, and are sure to captivate Victoria theatregoers this week.

singer and comedienne, is also one of the lights of this bill, and little need be said of her, as her past performances speak for themselves. She has always been the hit of any show she has performed in, and never fails to please.

Several other good acts are included, altogether making an excellent bill for the holiday.

With two such leading women as Evelyn Brent and Greta Nissen, Thomas Meighan's new production, "Blind Alleys" which is the feature picture attraction at the Coliseum this week, is assured of more than its fair share of pulchritude. Starting in Cuba and reaching New York soon after the first reel, "Blind Alleys" follows Meighan and his mate through all the experiences they encounter when arriving in New York. On their first night in America Tom is shown the inside of a hospital due to an auto accident, and Greta is kidnapped by a crew of desperados.

Harold Lloyd Back at Variety Making Victorians Laugh

Famous Comedy Presentation
Will Be Shown At Variety;
Other Attractions

While few persons outside the industry itself probably ever consider this fact, it's true nevertheless that there is no business in the world which demands so much in the way of health from its people than does motion picture acting. Very often the camera is made to lie. It can do tricks, but there's one thing it can't do—it can't eradicate the lines of ill health or disfigurement. A skin blemish, worn look, or sagging flesh, all defy the expertise of the finest camera or the best photographer.

That's why Harold Lloyd, whose next Paramount release, "The Kid Brother," now showing at the Variety, is rated among his best, keeps himself in the finest physical condition. There is no one in the motion picture industry who is called upon to work any harder than Lloyd. He does this by unceasing activity in various sports, varying his games so that no one sport grows monotonous.

When Harold does not find time for his favorite game, baseball, he devotes half an hour to swimming.

Lon Chaney With Oriental Vampire In Columbia Film

"Zaya" Has Miss Meyers As Leading Lady; Chaney
Veteran Sergeant

What are the plans and specifications for an ideal Oriental vampire? Should she be snake-like and sinuous, with the languid lure and melting motions of the tempter of Eve?

Or should she be rounded or voluptuous? This is the problem George Hill, screen director, had to settle when sitting in judgment of famous vampires of the screen to select the "Zaya" of his spectacular Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Tell It to the Marines," at the Columbia Theatre.

Regulars of the service finally decided. All questions asked: Who had seen service—and naturally South Sea vamps—in the tropics—and the service men chose Carmel Myers! Hence Miss Myers plays the fiery "Zaya," charmer of men in the island sequences of the big story, a vivid drama of life with the Marine Corps filmed with co-operation of the United States Government.

The picture is laid on battleships, in Marine barracks, and in Oriental locales where the Marine Corps does duty. Hundreds of regular Marines take part in the big battle scenes and other thrills in the huge drama. Lon Chaney plays a veteran sergeant in the picture and William Haines the principal romantic role as a young recruit. Eleanor Boardman is the heroine, and others in the cast include Frank Currier, Eddie Gribbon, Maurice Kama, Mitchell Lewis and others of note.

Reginald Hincks Opening Summer Season Monday

Playhouse Will Have Stage and Screen Attractions This Week

Reginald Hincks opens his Summer season of musical comedy stock at the Playhouse with that famous old English success, "The Earl and the Girl." The cast of players is somewhat different this season. Eva Hart, who is too well-known locally for further comment, is singing the prima donna lead in the opening production; Bobbie Stephens, an Old Country comedienne, just recently arrived in Victoria, will take Miss Coome's place in the comedy section; Georgina Watt, Scottish contralto, will be heard in several selections; Will Marshall has returned from his vacation full of pep; Reginald Hincks will appear himself as the Earl, and lastly Harold Bechtel will commence his third season as heavy comedian, playing the part of Jim Cheese, "The Earl's" valet.

Much of the original music from "The Earl and the Girl" has been included in the production

such as "I'm a Lord," "My Cozy Corner Girl," "My Rose Thou Art," "Had to Be You" and "Has Anyone Seen My Pom?" Stanley McKay, the stage manager, has been working overtime to put the finishing touches on another of his beautiful stage pictures to set off the production, and Bert Zala has prepared a special musical programme for the week.

Wilhelm Displays Wonderful Spirit To Capture Title

Portland Star Defeated Frank Dolp 2 and 1 in Final at Colwood Saturday Afternoon

Dolp Came Back Strong in Afternoon to Nearly Overcome Lead of Seven Holes

Rudy Wilhelm won the highest golfing honors in the Pacific Northwest on Saturday afternoon when he defeated Frank Dolp 2 and 1 in the final of the P.N.W. amateur championship at Colwood. A gallery of 800 people saw the new champion gain an easy lead of seven holes in the morning round, only to see his youthful rival whittle the margin down in the afternoon until but two holes of it remained. Wilhelm's first round of 68 broke the record by two strokes and was easily the high-water mark in a week of brilliant play.

PLAYED GREAT GOLF

Fresh from an impressive win in the Oregon state championship last month Rudy had played a spectacular round of golf all week, during which time he had won all his matches by overwhelming margins. It, therefore, came as no surprise to the huge gallery when he finally achieved success on the thirty-fifth green in a finish that was as thrilling as the match itself.

STYMIE BEAT HIM

Here the two balls lay on opposite sides of the cup with Wilhelm only needing a half to win. He putted and his ball ran past the hole and completely stymied Dolp. After much thought the latter selected his masher, and bravely attempted to pitch over, but the ball struck an inch too far and the championship was lost and won.

WONDERFUL COURAGE

Dolp was magnificent in defeat. Faced with the almost impossible task of overcoming a seven-hole lead he displayed wonderful courage during the afternoon, and but for a couple of missed chances he might well have squared matters.

CRITICAL HOLE

The critical hole was really the thirtieth Wilhelm's lead was then only three and on this hole he half-topped his second and was short of the green, while Dolp was well on in two. It looked to be his hole and even more so after Rudy's chip had been fifteen feet too far. However, the latter threw every bit of his putting skill to his aid and holed out in four, while Dolp took three miserable putts to find the cup. This put Rudy four up and five to go, and practically ended the match.

The match can really be divided into two distinct parts with entirely different characteristics in each. In the first round Wilhelm could be said to have been playing the defensive throughout, while the latter tried desperately to tune up his game without a great deal of success.

EVEN FASTER GAIT

After reaching the turn in 35 and even faster gait coming in, Rudy struck an even faster gait coming in, and putted only able to take a 1, three holes.

A WRONG DECISION

By the official count Rudy was nine up, but during the lunch hour a hole was taken away from him by the tournament committee and given to Frank. This was made necessary by a wrong decision of the referee on the very first hole of the match, and Rudy was therefore only seven down when they teed off in the afternoon.

EFFECTED WILHELM

This incident undoubtedly had something to do with the collapse of Wilhelm's game, for during the second round he showed only occasional bursts of the brilliance that had marked his play during the morning. For the rest of the time he was struggling desperately to hold his lead, and it was only by the slimmest of margins that he did so. Dolp, on the other hand, regained his putting touch, and this helped to restore his confidence, with the result that he soon changed the whole aspect of affairs, and transformed the match into a battle instead of a rout.

The tall, young Western champion usually got better distance from his tee than the winner, but the latter's deadly chipping together with his uncanny ability to get out of trouble more than counterbalanced this.

PUTTING STEADY

During the morning round he often ran the ball up dead from thirty yards and more. His putting too, was very steady for the first half of the match, while Dolp's was ragged until after lunch, when it together with the rest of his game improved considerably.

STARTED WELL

They started the well considering the damp condition of the greens, and after the first hole, when Rudy had holed a putt on the second for a birdie three, while Rudy made his only mistake of the round and took 5. This, however, was the only hole he lost all morning, and by collecting birdies on the eighth, fourteenth and sixteenth, together with pars on the remainder, he found himself putting for his 68 on the eighteenth green. Here he was partially stymied, and fearing to knock his opponent's ball into the hole, he delicately carried off it into the cup in the best billiard style.

WON INITIAL HOLE

After lunch Frank gave notice of what was to come by winning the initial hole and had picked up two more by the time the twenty-fifth was reached. Rudy then came back and caged a nice twenty-foot putt on the twenty-sixth for a birdie, which left him 3 up. Frank seemed to have lost another chance on the next, when his second took a bad pick and found the side of the trap, but he recovered beautifully and Rudy obligingly three-putted and lost the hole.

Mrs. Sweeney Proves Unbeatable And Wins Ladies' Championship

Vancouver Lady Wins Title For Sixth Time by Defeating Mrs. Hutchinson 9 and 8

Mrs. S. C. Sweeney of Vancouver won her sixth P.N.W. women's championship in handy fashion on Saturday, when she defeated Mrs. Hutchinson of Oak Bay 9 and 8 in the thirty-six-hole final at Colwood.

The winner took a lead of two holes almost from the start, but Mrs. Hutchinson came back and squared the match on the tenth after Mrs. Sweeney had taken three putts from twenty-five feet out. The Vancouver lady then won the eleventh and fourteenth to regain her lead, which she held at lunchtime.

FAR FROM BEST

Up till this time both ladies had been far from their best. Mrs. Hutchinson was having trouble with her tee shots while Mrs. Sweeney threw away many holes by shaky work with her putter.

After lunch she hit her full stride and shot a 39 going out to increase her lead to eight at the turn. The match ended with the new champion winning the next hole.

Mrs. Sweeney deserves great praise for the way in which she so easily went through one of the classiest fields ever assembled on the Coast. In only one match, that against Miss Ayton, was there any doubt as to the final outcome.

Mrs. Carey, the famous Seattle lady, beat Mrs. McAllister, 2 and 1, to gain the honors in the first flight.

D.F.A. Officials Fail in Attempt To Introduce Rule

St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—At the annual convention of the U.S. Football Association which closed Saturday, representatives of the Dominion Football Association and the Michigan State Association unsuccessfully sought to introduce a special law governing the transfer of players between Canada and the United States.

President A. M. Brown pointed out that there is a rule governing international transfers in the code of the Federation International of Football Association and he held that there was no need for a special rule.

Plan Outlined For Settling of Soccer Difficulties In B.C.

Annual Meeting of B.C.F.A. Held in Vancouver Saturday Night

Vancouver, June 27.—A new plan which, if carried out to fruition, may result in settling soccer differences, was outlined by Dave Nelson, president of the B.C.F.A. at Saturday night's annual meeting. He called a general meeting of managers and secretaries of first division clubs of both mainland and coast leagues for Wednesday night when there will be a thrashing-out of the round ball situation.

The constitution question was not being discussed at all Saturday. At the outset a ruling was asked of Dave Nelson, who presided, with regard to the presence of suspended members. He ruled that they should leave the meeting. This ruling was challenged and by a vote of 21 to 18 the members were allowed to remain. Messrs. Leith and Samson of the soccer commission as a consequence withdrew from the meeting.

The meeting adjourned to permit those present to bid farewell to the visiting Vancouver soccer team.

It was announced that Andy Roots, goalie, was selected as the most valuable man on the British Columbia all-star team and he was presented with a miniature goal football. Macfarlane and Daggar, respectively, were next in line.

D.F.A. Officials Fail in Attempt To Introduce Rule

St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—At the annual convention of the U.S. Football Association which closed Saturday, representatives of the Dominion Football Association and the Michigan State Association unsuccessfully sought to introduce a special law governing the transfer of players between Canada and the United States.

President A. M. Brown pointed out that there is a rule governing international transfers in the code of the Federation International of Football Association and he held that there was no need for a special rule.

EXPECTS TO CLEAN UP $2,000,000

TEX RICKARD.

New York—Wherever there's gold you'll find a good miner. A long, long time ago a smart fellow named Snookum Jim made a strike on Bonanza Creek out in the Klondike. He had a pal named Tex, who didn't amount to shucks as a panhandler. But Tex opened the biggest gambling house north of Fifty-third, and became famed as keeper of the "Northern" saloon.

But deep down in his heart, Tex longed to be a successful miner like his pal, Snookum Jim. He dealt cards, raked in chips and bought whisky in wholesale lots for many a year.

Then one day he made a strike. He mined a nifty little bit of gold out in appropriately enough, Goldfield, Nevada. He promoted the Gans-Nelson fight and drew down a lot of pay dirt.

"There's gold in them there boxing bills," mused Tex, whose last name was Rickard.

This summer, to bring our little yarn up to date, this miner is swinging his pick into the juiciest outdoor season of bouts the boxing world has ever seen.

He will take in, he says, more than $2,000,000 in receipts. He has certain nose-busters lined up, among whom are Jack Delaney, Mike McGuire, Jim Maloney, Jack Sharkey, Paulino Uzcudun, not to mention Champion Gene Tunney, who will draw a steady stream of dollars into the claims he has staked out in wooden arena.

TAKEN IN $10,000,000
During his life, Rickard estimates he has taken in more than $10,000,000 in boxing receipts alone.

Fifteen of his fights have drawn gates of more than $150,000, eleven more than $200,000, nine more than $300,000, six more than $400,000, four more than $500,000, three more than $1,000,000, and one twice that sum.

More than half of these receipts have been clear profits. The last six-day bike race, for instance, drew receipts of $400,000 and his expenses were only $100,000.

Because Tex has been such a competent miner, his associates in the Madison Square Garden Corporation gave him a big testimonial dinner at the Commodore here recently.

"Famous figures in finance, politics, the professions, sports, all kinds of notable were there."

Snookum Jim made mining history in the Klondike. He was a piker compared to his pal, Tex.

Tilden Won To-day And Now Enters Singles Semi-finals
Wimbledon, Eng., June 27.—William T. Tilden, American, entered the singles semi-finals of the Wimbledon lawn tennis tournament to-day by defeating the French star, Jacques Brugnon, in a long drawn out match which was twice interrupted by rain, the score being 6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

Betty Nottall and Mrs. Godfree entered the quarter finals of the Women's doubles by defeating Mrs. Randolph Lyett and Miss Evelyn Colyer, 6-3, 6-3.

Owing to the delay in the day's schedule caused by rain, the quarter final match between Francis T. Hunter and Henri Cochet was postponed, until to-morrow.

Jewish Soccer Team In Fine Exhibition
Winnipeg, June 27.—In one of the best exhibitions of soccer ever witnessed here, the touring Hakoah team of Vienna defeated an all-star local team, 9 to 2, Saturday.

In the first half the visitors ran up a 5-1 score, and in the closing session were content to play on the defensive, with an occasional speed tour into the local territory.

Hausler, who scored six goals, and Schwertner, who scored three, were the right wing combination display.

The Hakoah squad will not play at Saskatoon, but will remain here until Wednesday, when they meet the touring Scottish team.

WINS LONG SWIM
Windsor, Ont., June 27.—Battling a strong headwind and heavy rollers, Fred Slater, of Detroit, to-day won the Riverside to Sandwich swim, about five miles, from Harris Doane of Tecumseh, the border's entry in the Toronto $50,000 marathon.

T'WAS GREAT GOLF WEEK

Seattle, June 27.—In his dispatch from the Colwood Golf and Country Club to The Seattle Times, J. H. Dreher, golf editor of that newspaper, says: "You ask me, Mr. Golfer: 'Have I missed anything by not attending the Pacific Northwest Golf Association championships at Colwood club?'"

You have missed in Colwood course one of the finest testing-areas for golf to be found anywhere and one of the best weeks of sustained superior golf ever seen on the Pacific Coast; you've missed the thrills of the close match, and the really royal entertainment of a people who like us and who know how to make us happy.

Yanks and Pirates Battling To Hold Their Top Berths

Yanks Split Double Header With Athletics; Gehrig Hits Twenty Second Homer

Pirates Loose Heavy Batting to Beat Cards 9-3; Giants Take Another Lacing

New York, June 27.—Pitted against the runner-up clubs in red-hot duels, the leaders of both major leagues to-day were hauling out all their sitting howitzers to hold the fort.

Lou Gehrig's twenty-second homer helped the Yankees to take the second half of a double-header from their challengers, the Athletics, by 7-3, after losing the first game by 4-2. Babe Ruth was out of the lineup with an injured knee, and Gehrig's hit carried him to within striking distance of Ruth's homer total of 21.

RIPPLED CARDINALS
In the other headline battle of the day, the Pirates loosed a terrific hitting barrage that rattled the Cardinals by 9-3.

While the Yankees still had a long lead on the American League field, the Pirates needed the victory, as they had but a slim half-game advantage over the Cards before.

Chicago's two clubs, which have fallen back almost simultaneously from second to third place runs, met mingled fortunes. After beating the Pirates the day before, the Cubs fell victims to the last place Reds, whom Luque pitched to an 8-5 victory despite poor support. Connally's tight relief pitching marked the White Sox's victory over the Tigers.

VANCE BEAT GIANTS

John McGraw's weak hurling staff, although strengthened recently by trades, was no match for Danny Vance, and the Giants fell before the Robins by 7-1. One Robbie's men threatened to pass them in the standings. George Uhle of the Indians, was invincible and shut out the Browns 2-0. Buckeye was unsuccessful in the second game of the double-header, being battered from the box as the Browns won 7-8.

JOHNSON BEAT AGAIN

Buddy Myrick, traded this year to the Red Sox, turned on his former team mates and slammed out a homer, double and single when Boston lost to the Senators 8-7. Walter Johnson went down as the winning pitcher, although he was relieved in the fifth.

A. C. Falk Wins Class "B" Title By Large Margin

Defeated Mickey Richardson, Also of Victoria, 6 and 5 at Colwood Saturday

A. C. Falk of Uplands is the new "B" class champion of P.N.G.A. as a result of his 6 and 5 win over Mickey Richardson in the thirty-six hole final at Colwood on Saturday.

Falk started at a fast clip and required but seventy-seven strokes to negotiate the course in the morning, with the result that he was seven up at lunch. Richardson put up a determined fight in the afternoon, and had won back three holes at the turn, but the winner then applied more pressure and ended the match on the thirty-first green.

WAS REMARKABLE

Falk's morning round was truly remarkable and would have been a credit to any of the "A" class men in the tournament.

Another local man, C. Ismay, won the first flight by beating the medalist Harry Duker of Vancouver by 2 and 1 after a grueling struggle.

Final results follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND
A. C. Falk defeated J. H. Richardson 6 and 5.

FIRST FLIGHT
E. Ismay defeated H. Duker 2 and 1.

SECOND FLIGHT
W. L. McIntosh defeated Dr. W. T. Barrett.

THIRD FLIGHT
W. B. Burns defeated H. Green 6 and 5.

FOURTH FLIGHT
R. Swinerton defeated P. Cridde one up.

Portland Lacrosse Team May Play Here

Leonard Tait, local lacrosse head, has received word from the Portland Amateur Lacrosse Association asking if arrangements could be made for them to play an exhibition game here during the holiday week-end.

The locals will attempt to arrange a game for July 5. The Portlanders are playing in Vancouver on July 4.

Fine Matches Seen In Tournament at Lawn Tennis Club

Some fine matches were played over the week-end in the annual scratch and handicap tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

Steve Jones figured in two marathon singles, winning in the open and losing in the handicap. In the latter Dave Radford nosed him out in the thirty-fourth game of the third set, after over three hours of play. Yesterday, however, Steve came back and defeated Bud Hocking in the open event after a three-set

FINANCIAL — STOCKS — GRAIN — BONDS — MARKETS

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial

New York, June 27 (By R. P. Clark and Co.)—The market was distinctly reactionary. Liquidation of oil started in the early dealings, influenced by reports of high production in the Seminole field. Later numerous May earnings reports of rails proved rather unfavorable and this accounted for active selling of the rail department. Mr. Pacific issued offered freely.

Later, motor truck shares were in supply on the announcement that Studebaker had entered the light truck field. Around mid-day the selling became more general with steel shares and motors under heavy pressure.

We believe the market, generally speaking, is going through the process of correcting the technical status that was weakened in many sections by a protracted bull speculation and this will be conducive at the expense of values.

New York, June 27 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire).—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Tightening of call money provided the incentive for a bad break in stock to-day. The selling movement spread gradually throughout the list and the whole market was under severe pressure in the afternoon. Banks started calling loans in the morning in preparation for heavy interest and dividend and disbursement, due July 1. These are estimated at upward of $500,000,000, making the total the largest of the year.

SNARED

A Story of One Wonderful Week

CHAPTER XX

Bodey and Nadine turned. A young man was scrambling across the fence on the far side of the road. A considerable bundle was on his shoulder and his pockets were bulging with parcels wrapped in yellow paper. He had dumped a sack across the fence, and as he descended to the road he lifted the bag with difficulty. Catching sight of the quartette in the yard he wagged his head in greeting, both hands being freighted with his burdens.

"That's Pierce," said Smith. "And a fine sight he is," commented the mother.

Her description was more or less accurate. Mud was plastered over the young man's shoes and trousers. His face was streaked with perspiration, his collar was open, and his shirt was clinging to him damply.

Pierce dropped his sack and the bundle he had borne across his shoulder and panted.

"Got something for everybody," he said to Bodey, "except—"

He cast a curious glance at Mrs. Smith. She had taken off her hat, revealing a shingled head with long streamers of curled hair coming forward past her ears.

"Mrs. Smith," said Bodey, "this is our friend, Mr. Pierce."

The young man bowed. "You are his mother?" he inquired, indicating, Elbert.

"None of your business," said she. Surprised, Pierce tried again. "I have been shopping for the family," he explained, pointing to the wares he had brought.

"Don't suppose for one minute that I care where you've been, or who you are, or what you have to say," she said. "Come, Elbert."

She climbed the fence—she had remained on the side opposite the house, with Nadine—and, lowering her head after her, she departed toward the kitchen.

"For the love of mud!" said Pierce, staring after her. "It that Smith's mamma?"

"Yes," said Bodey. "Well, he didn't get his disposition from any stranger! How did she get here?"

"Got a ride on the highroad, and walked the rest of the way," the man told him.

"And there's the most wonderful story!" chimed in Nadine. "Is it all right to tell it to him?" she asked of Bodey.

"If you don't embroider it," said he. "It may help Charlie here to keep his balance. I judge there may be storms ahead. What all did you buy?"

Pierce touched one of the bundles with his foot. "Six pairs of stockings," he began, "and—"

"How did you know my size?" the girl asked. "I didn't tell you to get stockings."

"Why, I was sure you needed some, so I told 'em you had very small feet, and bought all they had of that size. It's only a little store. And, Nadine, I didn't buy that white goods you told me to. I know what it was for, and they had some things already made up—different kinds—so I bought an assortment of 'em. There are pink ones—"

"Never mind that," she interrupted firmly. "I'll look myself when I get inside. What else did you get?"

"The clerk suggested a hairnet, so I bought half a dozen, and a dozen handkerchiefs—they didn't have any very nice ones, but these'll do, I guess. And I bought some bedroom slippers for you, and three nightgowns—"

"I didn't say a word about nightgowns," said she. "But the clerk said you'd be sure to need some," protested Pierce. "Great goosh!" said Bodey. "You didn't tell them about Miss Rollins being here, did you?"

"I didn't say a word about her," responded Pierce, a trace of injury in his air. "I only said I had a lady friend who was out of luck and only had one dress and one pair of stockings."

"What did the clerk say?" said Nadine. "She giggled all the time," said the young man, "but she was very helpful. That's how I happened to get you a bathrobe, too, and a little celluloid toilet set with a mirror that fills the whole lid, and two or three kinds of hand soap—I didn't know which perfume you liked—and some bath salts—"

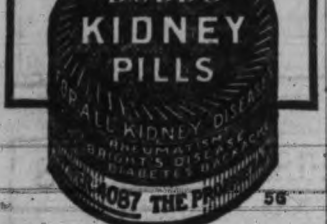

"To use in our elegant bathroom," supplied Bodey. "Didn't think to order a bathtub, did you?"

Take Dodd's Kidney Pills Says Mr. H. McPherson

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills at different times and would not use any other," writes Mr. H. McPherson, 1139 Winnipeg Avenue, Winnipeg. "On one occasion I woke up in the morning and could hardly get out of bed because my back was so bad. I sent for a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and before I had taken the first box, my sore back had gone, and I have never been troubled since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up their reputation as a kidney remedy by the relief they give. Insist upon having DODD'S.

"Isn't there one here?" asked Pierce. "Haven't seen one, have you?" Bodey's eyes twinkled and Nadine laughed aloud. "What we use is an old wash tub that Smithy and I found when we came. There isn't any shower attachment. But say, young fellow, while you were buying out the female departments of that store, did it occur to you to get anything for the house? Simple, everyday things like food, for instance?"

"Of course I did," said Pierce, aggrieved. "Some of it's in this sack, and the rest in my pockets. That big bundle's all for Nadine, though."

"That you, Charlie, for being so thoughtful," said the girl. "I'll take it in now, and look at it."

"No—I'll do it."

Bodey leaned against the fence and waited while Pierce carried his assortment of feminine purchases indoors, taking the front way to avoid Mrs. Smith.

"Now what else?" he asked, when the young man returned.

"Got another ham and a side of bacon," reported Pierce, checking off the list on his fingers, "and some fresh beefsteak and lamb chops, and some packages of grub made out of wheat, and ten pounds of butter, and two loaves of bread—everything was getting so bulky I figured it might be troublesome to carry more bread," he broke off to explain. "But I got a package of flapjack flour and a can of lard, and a jar of preserved strawberries—"

"Jerusalem!" breathed the man, leaning over to test the weight of Pierce's sack. "No wonder you staggered when you came across the road."

"Thought I'd busted my back," said Pierce. "Never worked so hard in all my days as I did lugging all those things from the village. There's a lot more, too. I've got towels in most of my pockets, and I've got two extra sheets in the sack, too. There are two for Nadine in her bundle. And I bought a razor and some shaving soap and a brush for me, and a little safety razor for Smithy, too. I thought it would please him."

"Good enough," approved Bodey. "I'll take that load into the kitchen. It may help appease the wrath of Irene."

"Is Smithy's mother Irene?" inquired Pierce, moving alongside his companion as the latter bore the sacrificial supplies toward the house.

"Yes—but don't call her that," Bodey advised. "She's a bit touchy."

Pierce drew back and made his way toward the front of the dwelling, while Bodey entered the kitchen.

"You really ought to make friends with Pierce, Irene," said the man, dumping his load on the floor. "He's packed a gosh-awful load of food and things from the village to make us all comfortable."

"First useful thing he ever did in his life, likely," she replied. She was standing at the cupboard, in which she evidently had been rummaging while her son watched her from the vantage-point of the table. "Pity that hussy you've got here couldn't keep this house better. There's nothing to eat but the butt-end of a ham and some sugar and salt."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Acorn Pie

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Out in the kitchen of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one afternoon the rabbit gentleman heard a noise of shouting and tramping feet mingled with the clatter of tin pans.

"Bless my pink nose!" cried the rabbit. "I hope none of the bad chaps have gotten in and is tickling Nurse Jane or my wife!"

Bravely catching up his newspaper with which to hit the fox or wolf, if either or both of the bad chaps should be found in the kitchen, Uncle Wiggily hopped out there. But he had no sooner opened the door than he had to laugh.

For he saw no wolf, fox or bob cat. Instead he saw his own little bunny children, Jingle and Jangle, Tooter and Scooter, and Elbert and Bumble, jumping around Nurse Jane and shouting:

"We want pie! We want pie! We want cherry pie!"

"Oh, you'll drive me out of my wits!" sighed the muskrat housekeeper. "I wish the Lady Mouse Teacher had kept you in school!"

But the children were out of school for the day and they were teasing Nurse Jane by calling:

"We want pie! We want pie! We want pie!"

"Look, here, then!" squeaked the muskrat. "I'll find a way to get rid of you. Now if you want pie you must get me some cherries!"

"We'll go get them!" cried Jingle and Jangle. "Out-of-the-kitchen they say."

"But that isn't enough," went on Miss Fussy Wuzzy, looking at the other children, Jingle and Jangle, Tooter and Scooter, and Elbert and Bumble, jumping around Nurse Jane and shouting:

"We want pie! We want pie! We want cherry pie!"

REAL ESTATE---HOUSES, LOTS and ACREAGE FOR SALE

THIS SHOULD BE AT THE PRICE

LOOKING over our properties for some time to advertise, we found a house on Fullerton Street, Victoria West. We believe that anyone who investigates this will decide it is too good to lose.

It is a bungalow of six rooms on a corner lot facing south. The ground floor comprises good sized living-room with fireplace, dining-room, pantry, kitchen, modern bathroom and one bedroom. Upstairs are two more bedrooms, with a concrete, cement floor, and a bathroom. The house is in an absolute state of repair, but the absolute owner wants to sell. We can give exceptionally easy terms if you wish.
